ROOSEVELT MAY INTERVENE TO AVERT STRIKE

COAL MINERS AND OPERATORS ARE DEADLOCKED

Union Wants Higher Wages; Request Is Denied

Washington, Sept. 21.—(P)—Last-minute intervention by President Roosevelt appeared tonight as the only hope of averting a soft coal strike Monday.

Appalachian producers and the United Mine Workers were deadlocked in their negotiations toward a new wage and hour contract to succeed the agreement expiring tomorrow midnight.

The miners asked higher pay. The operators refused to budge an inch from their position that a renewal of the present scale was the best they could offer.

Enactment of the Guilef bill to set up a "Little NRA" for the bituminous industry apparently had not helped to reconcile opposing views, contrary to the expectations of the union and the administration. Already the law was under court attack.

Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor and the administration's number one labor trouble-shooter, was understood to have suggested a compromise today, but found the union unwilling to accept it. McGrady kept Mr. Roosevelt in touch with the situation by telephoning.

Even though the Guilef act was designed to assure the industry sufficient income to cover production costs—including wages—the producers contended that any increase in these production costs at this time would mean a heavy loss of business to competitive fuels.

Such a loss, they maintained, would be disastrous to both capital and labor in the long run.

The union, on the other hand, stressed rising living costs in the coal fields. Many miners, union chiefs said, had been forced to supplement their wages with federal relief.

Philip Murray, union vice president, said the average miner made only $15.00 a week during the first half of this year with which he had to keep himself and an average family of four.

Coal men here saw three openings for the president:

- (1) To suggest a compromise.
- (2) To ask the sixth extension of the old scale while negotiations were continued and the new coal commission organized.
- (3) To demand arbitration.

ARREST YOUTH BELIEVED TO BE MANIAC WHIPPER

Suspect Identified By Husbands of Two Victims

Chicago, Sept. 21.—(P)—Two men whose wives had been criminally assaulted in a series of sadistic attacks that terrorized the western suburbs tonight looked upon Micalio Iannella, 24, and said he closely resembled "the scourge," sex madman sought for the crimes.

Austin police held Iannella on an open charge. He was arrested on suspicion in a pool room in the neighborhood where the attacks occurred.

Orlando James and Fletcher Madison, whose wives were attacked and beaten with a lead-studded leather quirt while they were bound and forced to watch the crimes, said they were "almost positive" Iannella was the man.

Madison, Police Captain John Steg said, looked at Iannella and stated "he looks so much like the man who attacked my wife that I'm afraid of him." Iannella denied he was the man sought. He told Assistant State's Attorney Julius Sherwin he was "out with a girl" the night the attack upon Mrs. Jamps occurred.

The police who arrested him said he fitted the description of the man sought as a sex maniac. The attacker had been described as a man 23 or 24 years old, swarthy complexion, dark haired, heavy set and about 5 feet 4 inches tall.

After James had viewed Iannella he said, as he left the station, "he's the man. I'm glad they got him."

A taxicab driver who was arrested in the loop about the time Iannella was picked up in the Austin district also was taken to the station, but the police said they were satisfied Iannella was the man.

Citizens in the western suburbs have been in a state of armed vigilance since the disclosure of a series of attacks, all performed by a man described by physicians and psychiatrists as a sadistic moron with homicidal tendencies, during the past few weeks.

The reign of terror caused Chief John Prendergast of Chicago's uniformed force to urge tonight that west side women and girls ask for police escorts if they went out alone at night.

Mrs. James and Mrs. Madison were attacked in the same fashion by a man who gained entrance to their apartments, bound their husbands, forcing them to watch helplessly.

Both Jacobs and Miss Dare will be attired in white to head the newly attired band members who will have uniforms of red coats, blue trousers and trimmed in white. Miss Dare has won wide acclaim for her able leadership and it goes without saying that her presence with the band in St. Louis will be an added feature.

In addition to the disabled veterans who are members of the band the musicians will include local Legionnaires and other musicians. The band will be accompanied by Wilbur Jeffries, Lloyd Ross, Wilbur Rogers, Harry Benson, Glenn Skinner, Dudley Hitt, Frank Reid, Sherman Coultas and F. A. Robinson, all of this city and Charles Lorch, Bryant E. Hadley and Messrs. Ranzi, Jones, and Kane all of Springfield.

FATHER NEWMAN IS VISITOR IN CITY

Rev. Phillip J. Newman, former director of the Routh Boarding school, and now president of the Illinois Catholic High Athletic Association and athletic director at St. Teresa high, Decatur, Ill., was a visitor last night in the city.

Rev. Newman is coaching the St. Teresa football team this year.

TO ROODHOUSE

Miss Harriett Crawford left last night to go to Roodhouse to attend a house party that Miss Dorothy Hall is giving to a group of her girl friends.

Frank Trotter of Pittsfield was transacting business in Jacksonville Saturday.

Two Men Attempt To See Prisoner, Placed In Cells

Two Springfield men attempted last night to call upon a friend held in the Morgan county jail and while they came close to a visit with the prisoner they did not get to see him. However, they were placed in such a position that they may talk to him altho he does not come within the range of their vision.

The two men actually fought their way to places behind locked doors, according to Sheriff Kenneth Woods, and he expects to prefer charges against them. The men are Walter Stathen and Kenneth Farley of Springfield. They attempted to visit Thomas Stathen of Waverly and became prisoners themselves.

The men called early in the evening and asked permission to see the Waverly man, but were refused admittance by the turnkey. Later they visited the jail again and asked to see Stathen.

This time Sheriff Woods met the men on the porch of the jail, and when he again refused to admit them the officer said one of them made a "pass" at him. Sheriff Woods immediately grabbed the man and threw him to the floor of the porch and then the other attacked him. He was likewise floored.

The two men then arose from the floor and both of them came at the officer. This time he again subdued them and was marching them into jail when Deputy Sheriff Clinton Strowmatt arrived and aided him in taking the men inside the building. Last night the two men were in the same building, but they were not within sight of their friend. The sheriff said last night he would prefer charges against the two Springfield men for the disturbance they created.

LEGIONNAIRES ARE GATHERING FOR BIG MEET

Expect 200,000 Will Attend St. Louis Convention

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—(P)—The American Legionnaires doffed their purple and gold overseas caps to St. Louis tonight, gave them a figurative flip in the air and opened the highly informal social aspect of the 17th annual convention, which gets around to serious business early Monday morning.

Highways and special trains, even the broad Mississippi river brought thousands of former World War buddies back to the bunting-draped streets where the Legion was born 18 years ago.

Sidewalks resounded under the staccato rap of thousands of smart new maple walking sticks as the veterans, most of them rapidly approaching middle age, gave St. Louis an old fashioned Saturday night.

Registration booths recorded about 20,000 visitors by sundown and officials said there were many thousands more who hadn't gotten around to the business of registering. There was no doubt about it. Officials estimated 200,000 would be here by Monday.

Two Big Questions About Next Special Session of Assembly go Unanswered

By Robert P. Howard
Associated Press Staff Writer
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 21.—(P)—The two big questions about the next special session of the Illinois legislature today were still without definite answers. They are:

When will the session be convened? What issues will be included in the call?

Governor Horner has said only that neither matter has been determined and that more work is needed in studying the dozens of requests for legislative action. Unless the governor includes an issue in his official call, the session is prohibited from acting on it.

DeWitt Billman, who is chief bill drafter as executive secretary of the legislative reference bureau, has on his desk several dozen requests for legislative action. Unless the governor includes an issue in his official call, the session is prohibited from acting on it.

Hope that the call can be limited to fifteen topics, including several validation measures of local importance, was expressed today by Alex Wilson, the governor's administrative assistant.

At least one other special session, to deal with school matters, is scheduled for the autumn months.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE TO FIGHT TAX

Instructs Executive Committee to File Test Suit

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 21.—(P)—The Illinois Municipal League today gave its executive committee a mandate to direct institution of a test suit against the state public utility tax act as it affects municipally owned plants, but ordered the committee to finance the action through contributions of cities affected by the act.

The action together with the reelection of Mayor John W. Kapp, Jr., of Springfield, completed the twenty-second annual convention of the League.

Debate as to whether the League should bring a test against the utility tax or leave it to individual cities was favored by the convention resolution committee, completely overshadowed action on municipal liberty, the convention keynote.

The measure finally approved was a compromise between the resolutions committee's stand and that of the league legal division which had asked the league to not only institute suit but finance it.

Legal representatives were the principal opponents of the resolution as offered and after pointing out that the league's name would add force and prestige to a test suit, won their battle for an amendment.

Municipal liberty was not overlooked entirely, however, in the final session. The league asked again that a constitutional amendment "establishing the sovereignty of municipalities" be put to a referendum.

"Encroachment" of rights of local governments also drew the criticism of the league.

In addition to a test suit which the league said should be brought immediately, it was also asked that the next general assembly repeal the utility tax act as it affects municipally-owned plants.

MIDGET HOPPERS SWARM OVER CITY

If Jacksonville shoppers flocked to the city's trading district Saturday night as thick as the proverbial flies, they were matched in their ardor by a species of the insect family resembling midget hoppers. A swarm of the tiny green bugs settled wherever lights were glowing for their pleasure. Play was interfered with at the Nichols Park softball diamond and also at the roque club tournament on West Douglas avenue.

Ordinary screen doors were no obstacle in protecting night laborers from the nuisance, and pedestrians will probably be picking the bugs from their clothing for Sunday morning recreation.

MUSSOLINI IS WILLING TO NEGOTIATE ACUTE ETHIOPIAN PROBLEM

3 HARBORERS OF DILLINGER GET LENIENCY

Two Physicians Are Given Suspended Sentences

Chicago, Sept. 21.—(P)—The three men who told the "inside story" of how John Dillinger and Homer Van Meter had been hidden during the heat of a nationwide hunt received shadowed action on municipal liberty, the convention keynote.

It came in the form of leniency when they were brought into federal court for sentencing for their confessed participation in the plot to harbor the notorious outlaws.

They are Dr. Harold Bernard Cassidy and Dr. Wilhelm Loerer, who admitted they performed face lifting operations on the late public enemies in a futile attempt to hide them from the law; and Arthur O'Leary, investigator for Dillinger's attorney.

Dr. Cassidy and O'Leary were given suspended sentences of 11 months each and placed on probation for one year. No new punishment was accorded Dr. Loerer, but he was ordered remanded to Leavenworth penitentiary as a parole violator to serve out a sentence imposed for violation of the narcotics law several years ago.

When the trio appeared before Judge William H. Holly, Assistant Attorney General Brian McMahon and Harry Connaughton, assistant district attorney, explained they had given valuable testimony in the trials of Louis Piquett, Dillinger's lawyer, on charges of concealing the gangsters.

Piquett was acquitted in the Dillinger case, but was convicted in the Van Meter case. His punishment was fixed at two years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. He is now engaged in perfecting an appeal to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The physicians and O'Leary testified during the trials that Piquett arranged a hideout for the mob men and handled the money involved in the operations. Piquett, in turn, laid the blame on O'Leary.

FARMERS WHO LED MOB ARE SENTENCED

Ringleader Is Given Three Year Term In Prison

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 21.—(P)—Thirteen farmers who led a cursing mob which blocked a federal farm foreclosure sale at Plattsburg, Mo., Aug. 15, were sentenced today to from one day to three years imprisonment.

Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves assessed the maximum punishment against Clifton Gall, ringleader, with three years for contempt of court and two years for conspiracy to interfere with a federal officer, the sentences to run concurrently.

"Your action is dangerously near to treason, and certainly rebellion and insurrection," the judge declared.

Sam Divilbliss, owner of the farm, got a year and a day.

Still to be sentenced is Harrison Nathan Jones, the 14th of the men accused of handhauling four federal officers.

Crisp Comment in National News by Associated Press

Max Baer, rounding up his training at Speculator for his heavy-weight fight with Joe Louis, in New York Tuesday night "apologized" to visitors in his dressing room.

"Excuse me. After the Braddock thing, I'm not supposed to be a fighter. Perhaps I can make you gentlemen change your minds Tuesday night."

Senator Norris, Nebraska republican-independent, asserting nothing has done as much good for President Roosevelt politically as the Tennessee Valley authority power project:

"Carrying on the TVA will do more than any other thing to break the back of the power trust. Already the effect of the policies of the TVA has brought about a reduction in the price of electricity all over the United States of more than $50,000,000 annually."

Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress Administrator, placing on the shoulders of his lieutenants in each state responsibility for carrying on the program:

"Within the limits of human ability you must provide employment for all eligible workers; you must complete projects, or project units, once begun; you must so plan your material purchases that no project need be delayed for lack of it; and yet you must not accumulate surpluses of unneeded materials."

The impression prevailed in Italian circles that Il Duce had given the league another chance to ask him: what is your minimum? His chief delegate, Baron Pompeo Aloisi, doubtless will make this new opportunity clear to the councils' five-power committee, it was said.

One member of the Italian delegation pointed out that "this constitutes the first official recognition of the league's mediation by the Italian government," and said the cabinet action implies revised proposals would receive the most friendly consideration by Italy.

League officials pointed out that Mussolini's "non-acceptance" of the committee's proposal does not involve any clear rupture with the league because the Ethiopian crisis still is in the conciliation stage.

If conciliation is officially declared impossible, the Italian dictator may find himself facing an international policeman, they added.

That means, the officials explained, that the crisis is not yet being handled by any definite article of the league covenant. If the powers should decide that conciliation is perfectly hopeless the league council must decide whether to proceed under article 15, presenting to both Italy and Ethiopia a definite series of recommendations.

These recommendations may not be the same as those contained in the existing project of the committee of five, which was described as "the framework of a plan" for technical assistance to Ethiopia in administrative, economic, financial and social reform.

The Wood Stove

Walking thru the business section recently the writer saw a brand new wood stove in a display window. The sign called to mind other days when the wood stove was in general use and circulated an abundance of cheery comfort in rooms of the house that could be heated in no other way. It is presumed that wood stoves are in use to this day in rural sections where wood can still be cheaply obtained.

In those days the arrival of fall meant the procuring of one or more loads of wood from a nearby timber.
The wood was hauled to the place where a woodpile was intended to accumulate, and then the spare time of all husky men and boys in the family was devoted to swinging the axe or pushing the saw. It was all right to ride one end of the saw, but you mustn't drag your feet.

The wood stove was ordinarily used to warm sleeping rooms, and goodness knows, they needed it when the mercury dropped. Of course feather beds and heavy blankets helped some, but a nice wood fire was a real boon. The fact that getting up time found the fire out and the room cold was not considered a disadvantage; folks were used to it.

A wood stove really earned its way in the family. The men kept their muscles pliable during the winter by chopping wood, the women got exercise carrying it to the wood box.
Everybody got a thrill from hunting
minks and weasels in the woodpile.
The comfort from the stoves put the entire family in good spirits. And finally mother used the wood ashes to make lye, from which she made soap. For all-around utility the wood stove was unbeatable.

Are We Going to Get Into It?

When "Bang!" goes the first gun in the Italo-Ethiopian war, "Bang!" may go the League of Nations. Worse, all Europe may pop off (not including the Scandinavian) in a war that will be so horrible that even munitions men will hang their heads for shame.

And what about us?
President Roosevelt has issued strict orders to keep out of it.

Woodrow Wilson was re-elected President because "he kept us out of war." He tried earnestly enough, but what happened was that the war could not be kept out of us.

At this moment, the Senate munitions committee is laying plans to stiffen our neutrality legislation. Commercial considerations are not going to get us into war if the Senate can help it.

Our state department has told Americans to get out of Ethiopia. If a country can tell persons to get out of a war zone, why can't it tell dollars to get out of there, or remain at their own risk?

Are we going to get into this old-world battle? We have yet to hear of one person who does not oppose our going in. And that includes the President, the Congress and about 130,000,000 Americans.

WPA Too Nosey

Persons seeking work on WPA are presented with a "personnel application" blank.

One question is:
"Have you ever been arrested, indicted or convicted for violation of any law other than a minor traffic violation? If so, state the particulars briefly."

Well, right here we are going to state
a few particulars briefly.

That question has no place in any questionnaire having to do with work on WPA. It is a question quite in line with many of the stupidities of modern social service.

Even in civil service, for jobs having to do with the handling and spending of state funds, this question is not asked. The right question to ask is not if the applicant has ever been arrested or indicted, but merely whether he has ever been convicted.
Did the geniuses who made up the questionnaire fill out similar ones themselves?

Short Comment

If the miners strike, the people will begin to think the Guffey law is merely guff.

Incidentally the grocery orders issued to relief clients in Cass county don't list chickens.

Mussolini says no, but the League
is grateful for diplomatic language.

Death and taxes are surely certain;
the more you pay off one the closer
you come to starvation by the other.

Freshmen reverse the order of nature. They are greener in the fall than in the spring.

We are glad to see part of that roll
we spent for a bit of bacon coming back into the county.

As far as we know, Uncle Sam's spud squad has not made any raids
in this section yet.

Signing Up The Meek To Inherit The Earth

If you could get 500,000,000 people to sign an agreement demanding the end of war, you ought to bring the world appreciably closer to an era of continued peace.

This, at any rate, seems to be the idea of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom; and a world-wide campaign has been begun by that organization to get half a billion signatures to a resolution against war.

The demand of this group is simple and forthright. It reads:
"Stop immediately all increase of armaments and armed forces. Use existing machinery for peaceful settlement of present conflicts. Secure a world treaty for immediate reduction of arms as a step toward complete world disarmament. Secure international agreements founded on recognition of world interdependence to end the economic anarchy which breeds war."

Papers setting forth this demand will be circulated presently in every country on earth. The women backing it plan to mobilize world opinion on a scale never before seen. They hope to confront the rulers of every nation with such an overwhelming demand for peace that the warmakers
will be stunned into silence.

Library Has Added Smithsonian Series of Twelve Volumes

Valuable Scientific Work
Now Available Here to Patrons of Library

A recent acquisition now on display at the Public Library is The Smithsonian Scientific Series in 12 volumes.

America owes the Smithsonian Institution to an Englishman. His name was James Smithson, Son of the Duke of Northumberland and a descendant of King Henry VII. He devoted his life to science, and on his death, he willed his fortune of $542,000 to the United States to found "an establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men."

The fingers of the Smithsonian Institution have stretched for eighty years into every corner of the globe where men of science penetrate or our government has representatives. The institution has become a storehouse of all scientific material belonging to the United States, and constitutes a key to the scientific forces that are re-molding our world even while we live in it.

The million visitors who come to Washington every year glimpse only the fringes of the collections in the institution and catch no more than a hint of their meaning. For that reason a demand arose that the exhibits and knowledge be freed from the confines of the Smithsonian walls and be made available for the leisure hours of men in their homes. Books and illustrations offer the only means to such an end.

The scholars of the Smithsonian Institution under the editorship of the Secretary, Dr. Charles Greeley Abbot, have prepared a series of books to serve as a pocket edition of the institution in all its activities.

Rich in illustration, these books tell a pictorial as well as a verbal story.
The work of specialists, they are written in the tongue of the layman. They represent the studied effort of the nation's scientific institution to bring to every man a panorama of its contribution to man's progress in the sciences—a progress which has revolutionized man's life, and which promises still greater wonders to come.

WPA Aims to Break Depression, Speaker Tells City Leaders

Dr. M.H. Bickham Describes New Plan at Municipal League Convention

Hailing the Works Progress Administration as a champion of the underprivileged, Dr. Martin Hayes Bickham, labor relations director of the Illinois
WPA, Friday told members of the Illinois Municipal League in convention at Quincy how the WPA is destined to break the stranglehold of depression that has been throttling Illinois communities for the past five years.

"Here is a chance to counteract the depression trends—to set in motion programs calculated to overcome the effects of life at relief levels for large numbers of our citizens in the cities of Illinois," Dr. Bickham said in discussing the plans of the WPA.

"These depressed families have a right to look to their local city officials for cooperation and aid in setting up and carrying out these WPA projects that are directed so pointedly to changing the demoralizing trends that bear down on them so hardy."

Approximately two-thirds of the Illinois population live in organized municipalities, the speaker said. Municipal leaders should know what is happening to these people. Then in explanation, he added:

"For more than five years now these communities and their concentrated populations have been in the grip of the worst depression in the history of the state and nation. In the midst of these experiences certain depression trends have become evident. Once recognized, such socially demoralizing trends may be more intelligently dealt with and corrective measures organized to counteract them."

Five Depression Causes

Dr. Bickham grouped the depression trends under five heads. Citing the "deterioration of physical properties," he said that as the depression has lengthened evidences of physical deterioration are evident in the shabby condition of streets, highways, public buildings, idle factories and private homes. The failure of wage income and consequent inability to meet tax assessments is the cause, he said.

Next, he showed the "demoralization in basic culture backgrounds," explaining that the loss of income has driven many families into lower strata of the social groups. Out of these de-moralizations in culture backgrounds comes much of the moral looseness and criminal tendencies so evident during the depression years. It was pointed out also that "alien continental culture traits" have been widely released in all our cities.

"Loss of income to both citizens and community has brought about a lowering of sanitation and health protection measures," Dr. Bickham said, in discussing his third heading. "The result is that health hazards are increased, thus undermining the health of the community."

Education is next to suffer, the speaker continued, showing that under the depression, limitations on tax funds for school purposes have caused the dismissal of teachers in many instances, and have even caused the closing of schools for part or full periods.

Finally, Dr. Bickham said, the "failure of normal community recreation agencies to meet the increasing needs of leisure time" has had an undermining influence on the character of the youth of the state, and the adults
as well.

Thousands Will Get Work

He then went on to show how funds
made available through Works Progress Administration will put hundreds of thousands of men and women to work throughout the United States on projects that will stop the deterioration of physical properties; halt the demoralization in "basic culture backgrounds," eliminate health hazards; re-establish education on a normal basis, and provide recreational programs that will combat the subversive influence of leisure time.

To date, the speaker said, approximately 4,000 projects have been developed and sent on to Washington for the President's consideration and approval. These projects, if fully manned and expended, would put to work about 425,000 relief workers and release about $452,000,000 for wages and operating costs throughout every city and community in the state.

Their primary purpose is to move needy families from their position at the relief level to a position of wage workers earning their own way by useful work in their communities.
"But these projects have been developed also to penetrate these areas of social disorganization and counteract the demoralizing trends so evident therein," Dr. Bickham continued.

"If the organized municipal forces of Illinois would rally behind these projects and energetically assist in their operation and completion, it would be possible to almost completely check the present trends in social dis-organization and overcome many of the social consequences of the depression."

Detroit Tigers Take Two Games From Browns, Clinch American League Pennant

Detroit, Sept. 21.—(P)—The Detroit Tigers, behind brilliant pitching by two of their four mound aces, mathematically riveted a second consecutive American League pennant to their home flag pole today by sweeping a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns, 6-2 and 2-0.

Even should Detroit lose all its remaining seven games, the second place New York Yankees, who beat Boston today, could not catch them by sweeping their eight remaining games. If that happened, Detroit would have 52 won and 59 lost; New York, 51 won and 59 lost.

To Eiden Auker, the tall Kansan, went the honor of clinching the flag for the Bengals. The "submarine ball" artist shut out the Browns in the second game, allowing only six hits. Pete Fox scored both Detroit runs, crossing the plate in the third and again in the fifth on singles by Walker and Gehring.

In the opener, Detroit won behind Tommy Bridges, who struck out eight and allowed only seven safe blows to win his 21st game of the season. A crowd of 31,000 saw Manager Mickey Cochrane's club clinch the bunting, but outside of a few thrown hats and a louder cheering there was no demonstration.

Detroit annexed its second straight title mainly through the pitching of Bridges, Auker, Lynwood (Schoolboy) and Gehring.

Rowe and the veteran Alvin Crowder. These four pitchers won 73 of the 92 games which Detroit has in the win column. Bridges has a mark of 21 won and 9 lost; Auker, 8 and 6; Rowe, 18 and 12; and Crowder, 16 and 9.

Detroit, in last place in April and floundering badly, began its drive for the league lead in June and in July caught and then passed the Yankees. Under Cochrane's handling the pitching improved, and one of the main reasons Cochrane had success with his nucleus was that he was able to work them regularly in turn. After passing New York, Detroit made a runaway of the race, and for several weeks it was mainly a question of how soon Detroit would make its second flag mathematically certain.

Vaughan Skids as Foxx Boosts Mark

Pirate Slugger Seems Out of Luck in Drive for .400 Average

New York, Sept. 21.—(P)—The rise of one important big league figure and the fall of another furnished the hitting high spots of the major leagues during the semi-final week of the 1935 season. Jimmie Foxx of the Athletics, bidding for the American league crown, came close to his objective as he continued his brilliant spurt for another ten point gain in the stretch which started a week ago. Floyd (Arky) Vaughan, whose aim has been to lead the National league with a .400 mark or better, ran into a serious slump that seemed to have wiped out his chances.

Vaughan, close to 400 all season hit safely only three times in 19 official trips to the plate and dropped ten points to 367. Vaughan's lead was unchallenged as his nearest rival, Joe Medwick of St. Louis, dropped six points to 357 and was in danger of losing his place to Chicago's Gabby Hartnett.

Foxx hit a .500 clip through the week with 15 blows in 30 times up, moved from fifth place among the American league leaders to second, one point behind Joe Vasmik of Cleveland.

The first ten regulars in each major league follow:

Greenfield also was able to turn in a win, its first in three years in the Illinois Valley conference. Friday night with more experienced men than Pleasant Hill could muster. One of Pleasant Hill's experienced backs appeared in Pittsfield high colors here Saturday afternoon.

Speaking of the Roodhouse team, Coach John Tarwin said the Railroaders have two of the best running little fellows he has seen for some time. He was of the opinion that Roodhouse should have defeated Quincy, but that breaks of the game went the wrong way.

The little fellows are McAdams and Alred. Those two youngsters have a lot of everything that goes into making brilliant runs—twists, side steps, stutler running and pivoting. They were so small the last time we saw them they had to run that way to keep from getting stepped on.

CARROLLTON HIGH TO SPONSOR X-COUNTRY

Carrollton, Sept. 21.—Carrollton high school will sponsor a cross country run, to be held in Carrollton Nov. 16. Coach O. L. Krughoff announced today.

Approximately 40 schools will be invited to send teams to the meet. Coach Krughoff is handling the details of the arrangements.

Fan Breezes

By Ernest Savage

They are beginning to set up the type for the printing on the National league pennant, and according to a lot of fans, the pennant may as well be printed with the name of the Chicago Cubs in the blank for the winning team.

There were just a lot of fans who were ready to give up the ghost when the Cardinals dropped one Saturday. Still, there's many a slip etc.

And Jacksonville will be able to get a little first hand information about this big battle of blasters when a couple of local fight fans get back from New York. It's a long way to go for a fight, but from all indications it is going to be a good fight—If Baer has learned to box just a little bit.

From all we have been able to learn about the opening football games—they were just that. The experienced teams were the ones who came off the fields with the victories under their belts.

That was true at Girard, where Coach Orville Krughoff believes his boys won because he was able to keep fresh men in the game, beating both the heat and his opponents with men who have had some varsity or freshman squad experience.

The Blueboys aren't going to waste much time getting into shape for basketball, either. Capt. Louis Laster, who had a great summer out in the mountains of Colorado, is going to begin working on some of the fundamentals within the next two weeks.

Football games scheduled for this week in the Little 19—

Braves, Phillies Split Twin Bill

Philadelphia, Sept. 21.—(P)—The Phillies and Braves divided a doubleheader today. The locals captured the first game 6-0 as Curt Davis held the visitors to six hits and won his 16th triumph of the year. Boston snared the nightcap 4-0 when Betts held the locals to three hits.

Home runs played a big part in both triumphs. In the first game Todd apd Allen accounted for four of the local tallies while Tyler and Berger drove in three of the four Boston runs with circuit clouts in the nightcap.

Cubs Beat Pirates 4 To 3; Cards Lose To Reds; Giants Split

Lonnie Warneke Relieves Roy Henshaw in Ninth and Halts Rally by Visitors

By Paul Mickelson
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago, Sept. 21.—(P)—For ten thrill-packed minutes the sensational Chicago Cubs' winning streak hung by a thread today but the pride of the Ozarks, Lonnie Warneke, came to the rescue to weave it into the 17th straight victory by stopping the Pittsburgh Pirates and giving the men of Grimm a 4 to 3 conquest.

Stopped dead in their tracks for eight innings under the spell of Roy Henshaw's southern slants, which had limited them to one run and only four scattered hits, the Pirates staged a ninth inning uprising that forced the diminutive Cub lefty and chased Warneke to give one of the most brilliant relief exhibitions in baseball to halt their drive.

Renowned as "Little Poison" to Pirate hitters because of his complete mastery over them in six out of seven games this season, Henshaw seemed a certain winner until the near fatal ninth.

None of the 38,524 spectators stirred much when Woody Jensen opened with a hit that Billy Herman couldn't handle, but the explosion was quick and almost disastrous. Dan Hefey singled over second and Lloyd Waner dropped another high single down the first base line, scoring Jensen and sending Hefey to third. Arky Vaughan, hitless all day, then responded by hitting deep to Herman, landing safe at first and scoring Hefey when Phil Cavarretta failed to get back to first. It was the fourth successive hit and two runs were in and still nobody out. The score was 4 to 3.

It was then that Warneke came to the rescue as the tense crowd, joyous as the Cubs had belted the revengeful Guy Bush for four runs and eight hits in seven innings, groaned.

But Warneke had just what it took. Floyd Young, first batter rolled weakly to Warneke and he whirled around with a perfect throw to force Waner at third for the first out.

Harry Lavagetto was next, and the respect was dark as it was Lavagetto who had cracked out three of the four hits off the tiny Henshaw in eight innings. But the law of averages and a sweeping curve forced him to roll to Bill Jurgens, who threw to Herman to force Young at second. It was a dead set-up for a double play, but Herman pulled Cavarretta off the bag with a high throw and Lavagetto was safe, prolonging the suspense. Gus Suhr walked, filling the bases and Red Lucas, "Big Poison" for years to Cub pitchers, batted for catcher Tom Padgett.

As the crowd stood in a frenzy of excitement, Warneke worked the count on Lucas to 3 and 2 and then forced him to tap weakly out at first, ending the rally and a masterful rescue that netted Warneke a tumultuous ovation.

The Cubs, who now have rolled over the four eastern clubs in four-game series and turned back the Pirates, were held to two scattered hits by Bush, the man they traded down the river last winter, for four innings, but they found the range on the "Mississippi mud cat" in the fifth.

Henshaw opened the inning by reaching first on Lavagetto's error on his ground smash, but was forced at second by Galan. Herman sent Galan to third with a single to right and Augie dashed home as Fred Lindstrom singled to right. Gabby Hartnett was hit on the left elbow with a wicked fast ball as the crowd boomed, but the crowd forgot that as Herman scored on a fielder's choice as Demaree forced Gabby. A single by Henshaw and Galan's homer into the right field stands scored the other pair of Cub markers. Ralph Birkhofer replaced Bush in the eighth and set the Cubs down in order.

Lavagetto's third hit gave the Pirates their first run in the eighth, scoring on Padden's single.

Double-Header Soft Ball Sunday Night

Springfield Girls, Men to Play Local Teams on Nichols Diamond

Girls' and men's soft ball teams from the Famous Department store in Springfield will cross bats with local aggregations at the Nichols Park field Sunday evening. The Springfield girls, with McCarthy and Pierce as batteries, will play against the Wright Lumber Co. girls, Scott and Wright, batteries.

Both teams have gone thru a hard season of play and have acquitted themselves with credit. The Springfield pitcher has a reputation for no-hit games. Fans are likely to see some play from the two feminine contingents.

The team sponsored by Walker's Cafe will meet the Famous men's team. Batteries for the locals will be Carman and Dicenzo, and for the Springfield outfit the pitcher will be "Chuck" Traeger, who sometimes piles up 18 strikeouts in a single game. He is said to have a lightning throw that blazes across the plate, and also a ball that travels like slow-motion pictures. The Famous men have 22 straight games to their credit and have annexed the pennant of the A league at the Springfield Southside Soft Ball park.

Athletics Split With Senators

Washington, Sept. 21.—(P)—Washington nosed out the Philadelphia Athletics 5 to 4 in the second game of a doubleheader today after dropping the first, 4 to 1.

Left-handed Dick Lannan, sent to the mound in the opener, lasted 6 1/3 innings after yielding nine hits and as many walks. Marcum went nine innings for the Athletics.

Henry Goppola, youthful Washington right hander, was touched for 11 hits in the second game but was effective with men on bases.

Indians Tounce White Sox 7 To 3

Cleveland, Sept. 21.—(P)—Hal Trosky, Cleveland Indian first baseman, hit his 24th home run of the season today in leading an eleven-hit batting attack to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 3.

Trosky's home run accounted for three runs in the sixth inning after Left Fielder Joe Vosmik walked and Third Baseman Sammy Hale singled. Monte Pearson went the route for the Tribe and held the Sox to six hits. Pitcher Tietje came to Ted Lyons' rescue in the seventh inning after four successive Indian singles.

The victory was the Indians' eleventh in 20 games with Chicago this season.

ROUTT HIGH WILL OPEN CARD TODAY

Facing a team which already this year has registered a 6-0 triumph over St. Teresa of Decatur, Routt High Sunday morning at 7:30 will take off for Bloomington where they will open their season's schedule Sunday in the Bloomington Three I league baseball park against Trinity.

The Bloomington parochials turned in their opening victory of the year a week ago when they set back the Decatur team in an opener. The Rockets will be going into the game without much scrimmage and without many veterans to carry on the work.

Coach Wallace Baptist Saturday said his starting line-up probably would be Pike and Gregory Galtens at ends, Beerup and Fritcher at tackles, Roth and "Red" Loneragan at guards, Doherty at center, Buoy, quarterback, McGinnis and Isaacs at halfbacks, and Lawrence at fullback.

Reserves will be Behrens and Balkan, ends, Cox and Weidlocher, tackles, W. Galtens and K. Maloney, guards, O'Brien, center, DeVoss, quarterback, Kindred and Lair, halfbacks, and Ring, fullback, with Tobin and Ferry, halfbacks, also making the trip in one of the Jacksonville Bus Company machines.

The game is scheduled for 2:30 at Fans Field.

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—(P)—The Cincinnati Reds delivered a smashing blow to the St. Louis Cardinals' pennant hopes today, defeating the Red Birds, 9 to 7, as the Chicago Cubs continued their long winning streak.

The Reds seem destined to take over the role of last year's Brooklyn Dodgers, who blasted the New York Giants out of a title after being easy prey all season.

Cincinnati, erstwhile St. Louis "Cousins" were all but that as they outgaited the Cardinals to win, climaxing their assault with a three-run rally in the ninth.

The defeat put the second-place Cardinals 31 games behind the leading Cubs.

Manager Frank Frisch started Paul Dean, "Daffy" was off form and yielded 11 hits and six runs before he was taken out for a pinch-hitter in the seventh inning. Ed Heusser was pounded for the three winning Cincinnati runs.

The Cardinals did not go down to defeat easily. In the eighth inning, they staged a three-run rally to tie the count at six-all. A ninth-inning drive fell short after one run had crossed the plate.

Two home runs by Herman and one by Lombardi were the big factors in the Cincinnati victory, although Riggs' triple with two on in the ninth won the decisive blow.

Manager Frank Frisch had a field day at bat, leading the Cardinals 14-hit attack on Tony Freitas and Paul Derringer with four singles.

The Red Birds got their first run on Pepper Martin's double and Frisch's single in the first inning and two more in the third on another double by Martin, Rothrock's single and another single by the manager.

They were scoreless then until the eighth when they drove Freitas out of the box. Frisch and Joe Medwick singled. Collins forced Medwick and Davis doubled, scoring a run and ending Freitas' tour on the mound. Derringer was greeted by Durocher with a double, driving in two runs.

Goodman's error on Medwick's single let Manager Frisch score with the lone and futile ninth-inning rally.

Floyd Craft and McCall Seek Title

City Championship Match Play Card Arranged for Sunday Over 2 Links

Floyd Craft, Nichols park and former city champion, and A. L. McCall, Country club champion and a newcomer in the city championship contest, will meet Sunday for a 36 hole match for the city championship, according to plans completed recently.

Craft will entertain the Country club champion over the Nichols park course in an 18 hole round in the morning, and McCall will be host to Craft in the afternoon for the second 18 holes of the match. Craft defeated Earl Hoover early this summer to win the park championship, and McCall won from Walter Frank 3 up 1 in the Country club finals last week.

Symmes have been waived over the first 18 holes at the park, but when the scene of play shifts to the Country club in the afternoon, both players will follow the course rules and play all symmes.

Manager Frank Frisch started Paul Dean, "Daffy" was off form and yielded 11 hits and six runs before he was taken out for a pinch-hitter in the seventh inning. Ed Heusser was pounded for the three winning Cincinnati runs.

New York, Sept. 21.—(P)—The Giants, back from a western trip that put them out of the pennant race in all but the mathematical possibilities table, broke even with the Dodgers in a doubleheader today. They won the opener 3 to 2 in eleven innings then took a 13 to 6 shellacking.

Harry Gumbert, rookie from Baltimore, went the full route in the first encounter, giving only seven hits and outlasting Watson Clark and Johnny Babich.

The Dodgers cut loose against Roy Parmelee in the second inning of the afterpiece, driving him from the hill in his ninth successive attempt to hurl a full game and scoring eight runs before Allyn Stout checked the rally. Van Mungo pitched the whole game.

Bill Terry, Giant manager, remained on the bench, breaking a streak of 296 consecutive games, while Weintraub played first.

Studios Improved

New drawing tables have been procured, and are grouped around a dia, which can be brilliantly lighted with two one thousand watt bulbs. The work room has been adequately equipped with machinery, stage sets, diagrams, and displays of all kinds for the use of the students. New photographic equipment has been purchased, to be used in experimentation and is complete and modern in every detail.

Say Chicken Thief Dropped His Relief Order in Hen House

Ashland—Dropping a relief grocery order slip in a chicken house has sent Harry DeGroot of this place to jail in Virginia, where he is awaiting action of the grand jury on a charge of stealing 25 chickens from the premises of Miss Ruby Eisenhauer. DeGroot waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the circuit court.

When questioned at Virginia, DeGroot is said to have admitted taking 25 chickens from the roost on the night of September 14. He had secured the grocery order that day and was carrying the slip in his pocket. Confronted with the evidence, he gave the Cass county officers the whole story, Sheriff Campbell reported today.

SLEEPERS AWAKENED BY LOUD SCREECHING OF SPEEDING TRUCKS

Noises like the blast of a fire siren filled the air in the west part of Jacksonville early Saturday morning around five o'clock. The police department received several inquiries of "where is the fire?" and "what's wrong up-town."

Patrolman Howard Stout jumped into the police car and made a quick run west on College avenue, where he learned the source of disturbance. It came from a fleet of large trucks which were traversing the avenue at a high rate of speed.

Virginia Home Is Destroyed by Fire

Elmer Harris Residence and Contents Burn; Wiring Blamed

Virginia—The fire department was called to the home of Elmer Harris shortly before noon Friday, but was unable to check the flames, which were under full headway and destroyed the house and contents. No one was at home at the time and the fire was attributed to defective wiring. It is thought the insurance will cover the loss.

Give Dance at Baxter Hall

The first school dance of the year at Illinois College was a "Mixer" held at Baxter Hall last evening from the hours of 8:00 to 11:00 p. m. Rainbow decorations in the hall lent a gay atmosphere for the evening.

In the early part of the evening the faculty members formed a receiving line for the students. Special numbers during the evening were given by a quartette composed of student men under the direction of Chet Bone. Music for the dance was furnished by Bud Miskell's orchestra and John Bunch was master of ceremonies between dances.

Miss Isabel Thompson and Dean Williams were assisted by a temporary social committee of upper classmen composed of Betty Lacey, Margaret Cronan, Margaret Elliott, John Bunch, Fred Pannitt, Johnson Kanady and Ed Page.

Centenary Aid Society at Kelly Home. Centenary's Ladies' Aid Society held its September business meeting and birthday social recently at the home of Mrs. Lewis Kelly on South Diamond street.

The president, Mrs. T. H. Buckthorpe, called the meeting to order and after devotionary, conducted by Mrs. F. L. Ledford, presided over a short business session. Reports showed the Aid society had a pleasant and profitable year. Mrs. Buckthorpe also announced her standing committees for the ensuing year.

The paper of the afternoon, "My Book Shelf," turned out to be a particular talk by Rev. M. M. Blair. In a few short terse sentences, he reviewed six books which he had read during his vacation; two dealing with religious questions, two with economics and two quite humorous and recreative yet vividly portraying character. Rev. Blair's talk came as a surprise and was greatly enjoyed by all.

During the social hour Mrs. Kelly, assisted by Mrs. Mae Stice and those ladies having September birthdays, served appetizing refreshments.

BEHIN HERE TODAY
RUTH WOODSON, pretty, high-spirited girl of 19, in search of work, seeks refuge from a storm in an old store house at Northville. The quiet old caretaker, BERTHA GIBBS, who knows a PENNY, thinks Ruth is ELAINE CHALMERS, the granddaughter built the house.

Ruth, needing shelter and having fallen in love with Ruth, decides to stay on a while, posing as Elaine. Elaine, meanwhile, at Graycastle College, vows in a secret meeting to win the love of her childhood sweetheart, John McNeill. She plans to go to Northville.

John McNeill has fallen in love with Ruth, whom he calls "Elaine," and they spend much time together.

Elaine goes to New York for the week-end and her mother, GWEN DEAR, tells her that Elaine's uncle, DUNCAN HUNTER, has escaped from an asylum and is thought to be in New York.

EDDY VAN HARRINGTON but encourages others, among them a senior at Graycastle, engaged to Teddy Van Harrington, instead of waiting for full vacation.

Mrs. McNeill returns home from a visit. She and John, alarmed about "Elaine" being alone in the old Hunter house with Bertha Gibbs, urge her to come and stay with them. Ruth declines. She decides she must go away soon.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXII

When the postman called at the McNeill house Monday morning he left one letter in the box. Susie who was dusting in the hall went out and brought it in. Nothing about it escaped her. The envelope was square and grayly blue and the letters that spelled Mr. John's name and address were upright and dashing.

She propped the letter upright on the hall table against the raised mahogany leaf and it stood out importantly.

When John came home to lunch he found it there, studied its exterior for a few puzzled seconds, took it into the library and slit it open with a paper cutter. This is what his puzzled eyes saw:

"Dear John McNeill: Here's a letter from 'the pesky bird' (you once called me that) who used to admire you so extravagantly. Time out here while you look for my name at end of letter."

(He instinctively followed the suggestion and turned to look for the name. Having seen it, he kept on staring at it. It was several minutes before he remembered to go on reading.)

"I'm at college at Graycastle now and am planning to run off during fall vacation—two weeks distant—for a visit to Mother's old home which used to be—and I hope still is—the house next door to you. I had such fun there when I was a kid that I've always wanted to go back. Just a whim, but I can't seem to get away from it. I suppose it will be a disappointing visit since we can never recapture the old childhood spirit, but at least I'm going to attempt it. It would help a lot to find one familiar face there besides Penny's. In short, when I arrive will you come through the althia hedge and greet me in the old garden? I'd adore seeing you again and talking over old times. You'll find me aged, though not decrepit.

"Otherwise the same Elaine Chalmers.

"P. S. (Of course there would have to be one.) Do you remember how you turned out the entire neighborhood to look for your Eagle Scout badge? Well, I had stolen it for purely sentimental reasons. I hid it in the old globe in the library. Maybe it's still there. E. C. (Unrepentant.)"

JOHN reread the letter and had begun on a third perusal when Susie called him to lunch.

He held his mother's chair as usual, then went and sat in his own place.

Mrs. McNeill said, "I've asked you twice, son, if you feel well. You don't look quite right. Is anything wrong at the factory?"

He answered quickly, "Excuse me, Mother. I didn't hear you. I'm all right. Just thinking, that's all. Everything's fine at the factory. Mr. Bennett's back and not coughing at all. He's got a new cold cure that he wants everybody to try."

"What is it?" inquired Mrs. McNeill with keen interest.

John described the treatment as well as his confused thoughts could recall it. He got it startlingly wrong, saying that Tom Bennett swallowed the grease and chest with what he should have swallowed. While Mrs. McNeill was marveling at this revolutionary step in medicine, John's mind was ticking off phrases from the letter, "had such fun there as a kid . . . will you come through the althia hedge and greet me in the old garden . . . your Eagle Scout badge . . . I hid it in the old globe in the library . . . E. C. Unrepentant."

Mrs. McNeill saw presently that he was unaware of what he was eating.

She accused, teasingly, "You're thinking about Elaine?"

When he reddened to the roots of his hair she was sorry she had spoken. She did not want to be a prying mother. She tried to close the matter gracefully. "She's a very attractive girl, John. But last night I couldn't see a trace of Hunter in her. She must be all Chalmers."

EMPHASIZES PRESERVATION HISTORIC SPOTS

Rev. W. C. Meeker Speaker At Daughters Of 1812 Meeting

Rev. W. C. Meeker emphasized the preservation of historic spots as a patriotic and benevolent enterprise, in his address before the Francis Scott Key Chapter, Daughters of 1812, at the first meeting of the year held on Saturday afternoon, at the American Legion Home.

The regent, Miss Carolyn Telford, presided, welcoming the guests and members, and presented Miss Charlotte Sieber, who charmingly sang two numbers, "Land of the Long Ago" by Ray, and "In Italy," by Boyd. Miss Sieber was accompanied by Miss Lillian Braden at the piano. Mrs. Edward Vorbeck was hostess during the pleasant social hour, and dainty refreshments were served.

In speaking of a recent trip through Pennsylvania and New Jersey, Mr. Meeker said, "Remove not the ancient landmarks, which thy fathers have set up," was a scriptural admonition which should be followed as an inspiration.

Following this thought, Mr. Meeker told of the Pennsylvania railroad, which traversed the state over the old trails of the buffalo, since the old trail of the Indians were steeper, over the mountains, both routes are replete with wonderful scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Meeker selected the beautiful drive including Altoona, the Horse Shoe Curve, through Harrisburg, Pa., Pittsburgh. The speaker said, "We were undaunted at Bedford, when, at the top of a mountain, we read the sign 100 miles of mountains ahead, have car checked. Along this drive we saw old highways, old landmarks and the historic acreage of William Penn, who upon acquiring twenty-eight million acres of a tract of timber land created a building project, that reduced the timber land of the state to twenty thousand acres. This caused destruction by floods of farms and game. Citizens perceived that the resources should be restored and forests were replanted. Also we viewed the site.

Lock Haven dam in the Susquehanna river, once used to catch the lumber rafts, gradually ceased to exist. Realizing the blessings they had lost, the citizens under a federal project have restored the land mark."

Mr. Meeker told of the benevolent projects which existed in Pennsylvania for a period and then passed away. Among these were, the colonization by Horace Greely of a large tract of land most note worthy, because it was an experiment in a philanthropic ideal. The colony of French refugees, which was planned to receive Marie Antoinette and where a castle was built for her was of interest. This settlement was frustrated by her tragic death. Ole Bull, the Norwegian singer built a new Norway, only to lose it after fighting in the courts to no avail.

Stressing the need of the religious shrines, Mr. Meeker recalled, the Quaker meeting house, oldest in the state and still used, also the Withered House, Old Tenant House, founded in 1692 as places in the United States left and preserved as an inspiration to the fellow men.

"Political struggles which have been fought with the lives of our patriots, said Mr. Meeker, were marked by monuments and historic buildings, that lent patriotism to the states and nation, serving as an uplifting force to all who observe, reminding them of the sacrifice and foresight of the founders of the nation."

The Connett car containing, Mr. and Mrs. Connett, Miss Louise Swarrington, 899 Caldwell street, Ralph Batty and Charles Zimmerman, was thrown against a telephone pole on the south side of the intersection and almost completely demolished. How the occupants escaped instant death is a mystery, as all were thrown clear of the car, one of the women alighting in the yard several feet away from the wrecked automobile.

Alderman Ralph Green who lives nearby hearing the crash, called the fire department and an ambulance. Chief of Police Frank Kiloran, Captain Earl Williams, and Patrolmen Howard Stout, John Norris and Thomas O'Connell were soon at the scene and gave aid to the injured.

The driver of the car that struck Sidney's auto sidestepped a telephone pole, narrowly missed a boulevard light pole and left the bumper of the car on the boulevard.

Witnesses to the accident say that the unknown driver stopped his car, got out and walked toward the Sidney car, then returned to his own car and drove away.
